SCHOOL REPORT.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 10, 1874.

NORTH SCHOOL.

Miss Mary S. Blake of Kensington, has taught this school the past year with a good degree of success. The discipline of the school deserves the highest commendation. The examination at the close of the last term was very satisfactory to parents and friends present.

Scholars not absent one half day during the year—Ellen P. Cram, Sarah D. Curtis, Abbie E. Shepard, Annie C. Sanborn. Not absent during one term, 16.

EAST SCHOOL.

During the summer term Miss Nettie C. Wilson of Cole-raine, Mass., “kept the village school.” She was a good scholar, but failed as a disciplinarian.

For the winter term the services of Miss Frances C. Pittman of Ward’s Corners, Buchanan county, Iowa, were secured. Miss Pittman was equal to the task she undertook. She was at home in the school room, and labored with a zeal that knew no faltering. The result was, order took the place of chaos. The discipline of the school was completely revolutionized, and the term was one of benefit to all concerned. Six scholars were not absent one half day during one term.

SOUTH SCHOL.

This school has had the services of two excellent teachers during the year. Mrs. Maria P. Sawyer of Kensington, had charge of the spring term, and gave the best of satisfaction. The progress made was highly creditable. At the close of the spring term the school was deprived of her services by her resignation. The connection between herself and associates, and pupils, during the three terms she had taught, had been happy and profitable. She retired, followed by the regrets and best wishes of all. The vacancy thus occasioned was filled by the selection of Miss Sarah E. Lane of Exeter, a graduate of "Robinson Female Seminary," who taught the fall term successfully. It was obvious to all present at the close of the term, that we have good reason for satisfaction with the progress that has been made in this school. We recommend Miss Lane as a faithful and efficient teacher.

Not absent one half day during the year—Josephine Blatchford, Mary H. Chase. Not absent during one term, 7.

WEST SCHOOL.

This school has been under the tuition of Miss Hattie F. Marston of North Hampton, during the year. Miss Marstou is a quiet but efficient teacher. The order has been good, and the improvement reflects credit upon both teacher and pupils.

Scholars not absent one half day during the year—Martha E. Nason, Alma F. Prescott. Elvin J. Prescott. Not absent during one term, 15.
